IS THE MAN WHO TELLS YOU THAT HE WILL SELL YOU A SUIT WORTH $20.00 FOR $10.00 TELLING THE TRUTH? IF IT IS WORTH $20.00 WHY DOES HE ASK ONLY $10.00. WE MARK OUR GOODS IN PLAIN FIGURES AND SELL YOU A $10.00 SUIT FOR $10.00, AND CHARGE YOU $20.00 FOR A $20.00 SUIT. WOULD YOU NOT RATHER DO BUSINESS THIS WAY.

Miss Emma Harlan will be the next hostess of the Card and Cotillion Club at the meeting to be held Friday of this week.

The King's Daughters will meet Thursday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock with Mrs. Clark Jones. This will be visiting day.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Munroe, who have been in the city for several days, were entertained Thursday evening by several of their friends.

Miss Emma Harlan will entertain the Girls' Card and Cotillion Club at 2:30 o'clock on Thursday afternoon, instead of Friday afternoon, as previously announced.

Little Miss Charlotte Hughes entertained the members of the First Preparatory Class of the Institute with a Valentine party Thursday afternoon. She was assisted in receiving her guests by Miss Charlotte Watson. Chocolate and wafers were served in the library by Miss Elizabeth Watson, and several pleasant hours were passed in hunting valentines, and playing merry games. The dining room, where ices and cakes were served, was decorated in red and lighted with crimson candles.

One of the prettiest and most enjoyable of the Valentine parties was that of Miss Zeidula Loftin at her beautiful country home, about three miles from Columbia on the Iron Bridge road. Many couples from town and the surrounding community attended. The decorations for the occasion were of exquisite beauty, consisting of hearts, mistletoe and carnations. Miss Susie Mitchell, one of the guests, sang a solo and contributed several piano solos to the pleasures of the evening. A guessing contest was indulged in, the nature of which was to count the total number of hearts on a ribbon, extending from one corner of the parlor to another. Miss Bessie Murphy succeeded in capturing the prize—a box of bon bons. At a late hour the guests were invited into the dining room, which was also decorated very prettily. At each plate was a carnation, a souvenir of the occasion, and after enjoying the refreshments, consisting of cream, cake and different kinds of fruits the girls were each given a pretty souvenir valentine, after which the party left for their homes.

The opening meeting of the W. C. T. U. held Friday afternoon in the Sunday school room of the First Methodist church in memory of the anniversary of the death of Miss Francis E. Willard, and to which the members of all the church societies were invited, was a most enjoyable affair. The spacious and attractive room was prettily decorated with palms, ferns and potted plants. A very delightful program had been prepared. Miss Day, the talented organist of the Baptist church, presided at the organ. After the opening prayer, the hymn, "My Faith Looks Up to Thee," was sung. This was followed by the excellent paper by Mrs. T. N. Fiquers on the life and work of Miss Francis Willard. Mrs. John T. Wooten read an interesting paper on the work of the W. C. T. U. organization. Then followed a prayer by Mrs. Aydelotte. Mrs. Annie White's paper, touching on the life of Miss Willard and the good work of the order, was much enjoyed. The delightfully and charmingly rendered recitation of Miss Hill closed the program, after which followed an informal reception. Dainty sandwiches, wafers and coffee were served.

Van Leer Polk to Be Married.

Mr. and Mrs. Van Leer Kirkman announce the approaching marriage of their cousin, Van Leer Polk, to Mrs. Dorothy Bodine, of New York City. The ceremony will take place in New York at the home of the bride's uncle, at noon on Wednesday. Mr. Polk will bring his bride immediately here to visit Mr. and Mrs. Kirkman at Oak Hill, and is expected to arrive on Saturday morning. They will make a stay of several days and then go to Ashwood, in Maury County, where Mr. Polk is living at "Hamilton Place," the residence of Col. Harry Yeatman. He has been phosphate mining in Maury county for some time, and will make that his home for the present.

Mrs. Bodine is a young and attractive woman, who has been a great belle in the East. Mr. Polk's marriage will interest a wide circle of friends and connections, to whom it will be quite unexpected. He is a son of Col. Andrew Polk and Rebecca Van Leer, and his sisters are the Baroness Charlotte and Miss Rebecca Polk. Mr. Polk has spent much of his life abroad and has filled with distinction several important posts in American foreign service. He was Consul General to Calcutta, and recently was a delegate to the Pan-American Congress.—Nashville American.

Her Seventy-Seventh Birthday.

Sunday, February 17, was the seventy-seventh anniversary of the birth of Mrs. St. Ledger White, one of the oldest and most beloved Christian women in the city. Some of her friends conceived the idea of making this the happiest birthday of her life, and the zeal with which the summons to this "birthday party" was answered was indeed a beautiful tribute to a beautiful life. The room was filled with friends and a short religious service was held, consisting of songs and appropriate remarks by Rev. J. W. Cherry. After this the guests offered congratulations and love, and each carried also a token of love, as they would have done had the honoree been seven instead of seventy and seven. Seven years would have received the presents with glee and laughter; seventy and seven received them in silence and in tears; for seventy and seven looks not on the beauty of the gift, but it is the heart of the donor she sees through her tears, and the years have taught her to appreciate love, the gift of the heart.

It was a beautiful day, a beautiful service, inspired by a beautiful soul. The day will always be rich in memories for her and her devoted husband. Her life battles, which have been many, are almost over; she has been victor over all, and the radiance of the higher and perfect life has even now enveloped her, and her declining years are as a halo of glory.

One of the most attractively planned and successful Valentine celebrations was that given last Thursday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Beal, of Carters Creek, in honor of the Social Club of that place. The parlors and hall were artistically decorated in crimson hearts and valentines, and in the reception hall, which was beautifully decorated, hung a large crimson heart at which each guest took a shot with a bow and arrow, after being served hot chocolate by Misses Snow Church and Mary Meroney. Martin Terrell broke the record at the "shoot," and also broke the bow. Merry games were played, but the chief feature of the evening was the guessing contest of the numbers of hearts in the room, which resulted in a tie between Mr. Hirschel Hardison and Miss Bessie Church. Fortune telling was indulged in the entire evening, so much so that two of the members boarded the train the next day to compare theirs with one in Columbia and see if there was really "anything doing." Later in the evening refreshments were served. The following were present: Misses Scottie Hardison, Bessie and Louise Nichols, Marie Meroney, Bessie, Tallitha, Snow and Lecey Church, Susie Jameson, Lucy McKee, Fannie Houser, Josephine Foster, Margaret McKay, Lizzie Oakley, Sallie Thomson, Mr. and Mrs. James Parish, Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Church, Messrs Earle and Lunce Church, Erwin Houser, Wallace Sellers, Cleveland Church, Porter Gary, Hirschel Hardison, Ed Babb, Erwin Fitzgerald, James Gormley, Charley Southall, Morton Terrell and Mr. Gartner. All enjoyed the evening and after the business meeting the club was invited to meet with Misses Bessie and Tallitha Church on the evening of March 1, 1927.

One of the prettiest and most enjoyable of the many elaborate entertainments in the social circles of Maury County this winter was the party given Thursday evening by Mr. and Mrs. Martin C. Adams at their home in Culleoka in honor of the Bachelor Girls' Club, of that place, and of their guest, Mr. Herndon Adams, of Overton, Ky. The house was very artistically decorated in vines and greens, and brilliantly lighted, the candlesticks of silver and brass holding wax tapers of white, red and pink. A very much appreciated musical program was carried out, and the feature of the evening was an uniquely arranged miniature postoffice, where the mail consisted of notes in the form of proposals and answers carefully arranged by St. Valentine, and correspondingly numbered, and which were sealed and not opened and read until the guests were assembled in the dining room later. Mr. Martin McKibbin acted as postmaster and Masters Claude McKibbin and Sam Andrews, while a mat of poinsettia occupied the center. In the center of the mat lay a large cut glass vase containing a beautiful bunch of carnations and ferns. The ladies who entertained and served here were:

room was most attractively adorned with the symbols of Dan Cupid, and the colors used, in addition to the crimson, were pink and green, the colors of the Bachelor Girls' Club. The table was covered with handsome lace pieces, and cut glass and silver candelabra held pink candles with red poppy shades. A most delicious four course luncheon was served. From a pretty heart-shaped box, from which were suspended numbers of pink ribbons, the souvenirs were drawn, among the number being one large heart which Mr. Clarence Latham was so fortunate to draw, and for which he was awarded the prize—a lovely silk handkerchief case. The closing and novel feature of this delightful evening was the cutting of the loving cake. This cake was decorated in white, and in its center was a perfectly formed bar of music, the first strains of Mendelssohn's Wedding March. Miss Charlotte Smiser was the fortunate winner of the ring. Miss Mary Wilkes cut the dime, and the thimble fell to the lot of Miss Annie Ballless. Culleoka is famous for the hospitality of its many charming homes, and Mrs. and Mrs. Adams have more than sustained the long enjoyed reputation of the town.

Mrs. Snell's At Home.

Mrs. E. Perry Snell gave a most charming reception from 4 to 9 Thursday at her beautiful and palatial home, corner of First street and Second avenue.

The reception hall was beautifully decorated with palms and ferns, while on the chandelier were hung that most beautiful southern flower—poinsettia. Mrs. Snell wore a handsome gown of real lace, with ornaments of diamonds and stood near the door and in her gracious and charming manner, assisted by Mrs. T. A. Chancellor, Mrs. J. C. Hamlet, Mrs. W. H. English, received her guests. Among others who assisted her in performing her duties to the large number of guests were, Mrs. Lillian Livingstone, Mrs. Nat Holman and Mrs. Jeffords, of Clearwater, (nee Armstrong) formerly of Maury Co.

The guests then repaired to the Japanese Room, the front parlor. The decorations in this room would rival the place of the Mikado. There were some beautiful Japanese paintings and fans and the wall and curtains were decorated with cherry blossoms, the whole effect being a harmonious blending of color and light. The hostess has in this room a most rare collection of Japanese curios and also many from Mexico that date back to the time of the Aztecs of that country. On the wall was hung a very ancient and exquisite copy of the Madonna and a large and most precious silk embroidered quilt that was owned by one of the old Governors of Mexico. All these invaluable and handsome things were secured by the hostess while on her tour through Mexico. Incense was burning in this room and this, together with the Japanese colors and paintings presented a picture that was decidedly oriental and restful to the senses. While in this room the guests were graciously served with Saké, the native Japanese drink by Mrs. A. B. Davis of Philadelphia, Pa., Miss Gray of St. Petersburg, Fla., formerly of Spring Hill, Tenn., Miss Blanch Kittrell, of Thompson Station, Tennessee and Miss Peabody, of St. Petersburg, Fla., all of whom were in the native Japanese costume and right admirably did they look the Japanese characters. The guests then repaired to the Turkish room, where everything was skillfully arranged to represent the typical room of that country. On the plate rail were idols of the various gods of Turkey, some of them 3,000 years old, native weapons, pictures and pottery. The room also contained furniture used by the Turks. All this, after coming from the Japanese room, stole over the senses and was wont to produce an effect like a dream. The collection of rare ornaments was enough to make an admirer of foreign and ancient curios most envious. This room was presided over by Miss Chasman, of Kentucky, Miss Mary Bates Allen and Miss Hickey, of Texas, formerly of Maury Co. These ladies were all dressed in the costume worn by the women of Turkey, and when they served black coffee the guests found it hard to realize that they were not guests of the Sultan instead of their most charming hostess, Mrs. Snell. After enjoying the hospitalities extended here, they repaired to the back parlor, which was tastefully arranged in the grandest of all colors—the American. Everything harmonized with the red, white and blue. The decorations were most beautiful. The furnishings were all American and a large American flag was draped at one corner of the room.

There was a profusion of poinsettia in this room. The large center table was covered with cluny lace. Claude McKibbin and Sam Andrews, while a mat of poinsettia occupied the center. In the center of the mat lay a large cut glass vase containing a beautiful bunch of carnations and ferns. The ladies who entertained and served here were:

Miss Minnie Claire Kittrel, of
